Gold Dream is responsible for winners all over the country, mainly grand children and great grand children. The direct offspring were too expensive for people to risk in the racing loft so they were put straight to stock. When you consider that these birds have won at the highest level in the biggest birdage the UK has to offer the the last twenty years is a testament of their quality. I would never be able to find out exactly how many winners have come through him but it would be more than many of the big named birds of Belgium and Holland. What is more important the whole family are the same, they are all closely related. LPM stud will have birds bred down from this cock in stud.
